Tango TX1™ is Now Guaranteed for Life™

Industrial Scientific is pleased to announce that all Tango™ TX1 gas detectors are now Guaranteed for Life™. Under the Guaranteed for Life warranty, all Tango TX1 gas detectors are warranted to be free from defects in material and workmanship under normal and proper use and service for as long as the instrument is supported by Industrial Scientific. The warranty does not include sensors, batteries, or filters. Tango’s sensor warranty remains unchanged. Carbon monoxide (CO) and hydrogen sulfide (H₂S) sensors are warranted for three years. All other sensors are warranted for two years from the initial purchase date.

The Guaranteed for Life warranty adds to the long list of reasons Tango TX1 is the most reliable single-gas instrument on the market. It features DualSense® Technology, which increases worker safety, regardless of bump test frequency, while also reducing overall costs. Tango gas detectors also include easy-to-replace sensors, filters, and batteries.

This change in the Tango TX1 warranty is retroactive and will be honored for all instruments purchased since Tango was first released in 2014.
